Proposed removal of two on-street car parking spaces on Collins Street:

- The removal of two car parks near the Sexual Health Service and Ronald MacDonald House will provide extra road width to enable buses to safely pass traffic turning right into Argyle Street. Buses often experience delays at this intersection caused by right turning traffic queues.
- This will reduce the travel times for buses travelling to the Hobart Interchange.
- The car parks proposed to be removed are:
 - One five minute space;
 - One half an hour space.
- There is adequate off-street parking in close proximity including Market Place and Argyle Street car parks which have a total supply of 1945 parks.
